1. Replacement sheets 2 and 6 have been approved. However, sheets 1, 3-5, and 7 should also be labeled as replacement sheets in view of the fact that they also include changes or alterations relative to the sheets as originally filed.
2. Claims 24-35 have been renumbered as claims 25-36 pursuant to 37 CFR 1.126. Claim dependencies have also been changed accordingly.

Appropriate correction is required.

4. Claims 6, 8, 16, 18, 27-29, and 31-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 6, line 2; in claim 16, line 2; and in claim 28, lines 1-2, it is not understood as to how the claimed O-ring can be accurately described as fitting in an “external step”. Claims 8 and 18 reclaims features already claimed in claims 1 and 14 from which they depends. In claim 16, line 2, what is meant by the phrase “fits an O-ring such that unthreaded”? In claim 27 it is not understood as to how the relative positions of the first and second axes can be adjusted by pivoting the dual-laser alignment housing relative to the laser housing. In claim 28, line 10, the phrase “second perpendicular” should be claimed as [second direction perpendicular] for clarity of claim language. In claim 31, how are the terms “a rounded exterior surface” and “corresponding rounded surface” intended to relate to equivalent terms in the claim form which it depends (claim 24, lines 9-10)? In claim 32, line 1, the term “24including” should be [24 including]. In claim 16, the phrases “the first and second adjustment screws and side surfaces” and “the spring-loaded bushings” lack an antecedent.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-3, 8-12, 24-27, and 31-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Moore (040) in view of Teetzel (905).

Moore (040) discloses a dual beam laser aiming module comprising:

- a) a laser alignment housing; 150, 160
- b) a laser housing with cavity; 170
- c) a rounded exterior surface; 160
- d) a corresponding rounded surface; and 180, 182
- e) adjustment means. 172, 174

Moore (040) applies as recited above. However, undisclosed is a laser alignment housing that contains first and second adjustable laser assemblies of infra-red and visible lasers in associated cavities with associated switching and a flashlight. Teetzel (905) teaches a laser alignment housing that contains first and second adjustable laser assemblies of infra-red and visible lasers in associated cavities with associated switching and a flashlight (see col. 7, lines 2-11; fig. 8; and col. 5, lines 21-47). Applicant is substituting a dual laser assembly for a single laser assembly in an analogous art setting. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in this art at the time of the invention to apply the teachings of Teetzel (905) to the Moore (040) laser aiming module and have a laser aiming module with a dual rather than a single laser assembly.

7. Claims 4, 14, and 18-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Moore (040) in view of Teetzel (905) as applied to claims 1-3, 8-12, 24-27, and 31-35 above, and further in view of McGarry et al. (362).

Moore (040) and Teetzel (905) apply as previously recited. However, undisclosed is an adjustment or alignment means that is a 4-point mechanism. McGarry et al. (362) teach an adjustment or alignment means that is a 4-point mechanism (see fig. 3). Applicant is substituting one adjustment and alignment means for another in an analogous art setting. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in this art at the time of the invention to apply the teachings of McGarry et al. to the teaching of Moore and Teetzel and have laser aiming module with a different type of adjustment or alignment means.

8. Claims 6 and 28-29 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

9. Claims 5, 7, 13, 15, 17, 23, 30, and 36 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

10. Claim 16 is too indefinite in its current form to make a determination regarding patentable subject matter.
